Look Again Art Weekender: Seed Fund Commission

Now in its fifth year, Look Again Art Weekender is an annual event that presents high quality art and design to the public in locations across Aberdeen city centre. We invite both established and emerging creative practitioners to work with us, encouraging the public to look at the city with fresh eyes.

A key strand of Art Weekender each year is Seed Fund, a commissioning programme inviting artists and designers with strong connections to the north east of Scotland to propose ideas through an open application process.

Art Weekender dates: 6 - 9 June 2019

Project Brief 2018: New Narratives

Look Again Art Weekender is creating a new narrative in the city, re-appraising the value of our significant cultural and creative assets; our built environment, history, heritage and people. Importantly, it also provides creative practitioners with opportunities to develop their professional practice in the city, retaining and supporting talent.

In 2019 the theme is New Narratives, reflecting both on changes in the city and in the wider world during this year.

We invite creative practitioners with links to the north east of Scotland to propose new work that reflects this theme, for presentation to the public during the Art Weekender in June. We are looking for initial ideas at this stage, and will work closely to support the development, production and installation of the selected proposals, whether in gallery space or external sites.

We will support 4 projects, each with a budget of £2,500, covering fee, materials, production and installation costs. We expect the work to be of a temporary nature and to consider sustainability and environmental impact in terms of production, delivery and removal.

In the first instance, we invite a brief outline of your idea and evidence of your desire to work with Look Again to make it real.

Application requirements:

- Please submit a proposal describing your response to this brief, including your initial idea and how you see it working within the Look Again Art Weekender – no more than 500 words.
- Please include no more than 4 images (low res) of your work with any website links to projects.
- Please include an up-to-date CV.

Eligibility:

- University Fine Art/Design or related Degree.
